Gospel Community

Along with trying to reach out to the community with the Gospel, our hope is that our community among our church people would be a culture that is informed by and fuelled by the Gospel. Over the past year, we've been teaching through a series on Gospel Community, examining the "one-anothers" of the Scripture. We are finding that one-anothering one another is a major theme of the New Testament. If we are not actively living in purposeful community with each other, then we can't obey the majority of God's Word to the Church. We are delighted to see this emphasis making a loving difference in our congregation.

Gospel Outreach

Aside from the recent conversion of Andy (see side note!), we are praying for the salvation of several people that we are actively witnessing to. Here are a few names to remember in your prayer time.

Sophie is the wife of Matt (who recently trusted Christ). She has a Roman Catholic background and is really mixed up in her thoughts about God. But she IS open to us sharing the Gospel with her. Pray as we continue to do so.

Dave is the manager of a local music shop. Dave is looking into all the religions of the world. He recently said that Christianity makes the most sense. Dave has said he's coming to church on Resurrection Sunday! Pray for heart knowledge, not just head knowledge.

Chibuikem is a classmate of Parker's. Chibs (as he's known to us) is the son of a Nigerian immigrant who has a surface knowledge of the Gospel. Parker is looking for ways to share the Gospel with him. He's come to church on several occasions and is becoming a family friend. Please pray for Chibs.

Thank you so very much for you prayerful and/or financial support!

Andy

Andy, the former soldier we requested prayer for, has trusted Christ and has begun our Welcome to Christianity course. He recently said, "I've found the meaning of life that everyone is searching for."
